Namba Gear

primitive technology

Thanks for checking out the Namba Gear products catalog. Based in Portland, Oregon since 2010, we are proud to have the Namba Gear headquarters join Nike, CD Baby, and Columbia Sportswear in RIP City. You may already know that Portland is where young people go to retire, according to the hit television series "Portlandia". But did you know that Portland is also known for having the largest number of breweries of any city in the world and in spite of a "little rain", has one of the largest commuter biking populations of any city in the USA. Of course Portland is also home to the Naked Bicycle Ride which, to our surprise, we discovered when walking out of a downtown brewpub...but that's a different story.

So, grab a chair and a cup of coffee (Portland is also known as Coffee Land) and spend a few moments thinking about what gear you have that you need to protect and transport securely. Then take a look at the Namba Gear family of bags & backpacks and see where you have a match. If you already own a Namba Gear bag, thank you for your support and welcome to the tribe.

GoBoard V2

KEEP PORTLAND WEIRD

GoBoard 49^{V2} GoBoard 61^{V2} & Keyboard Gig Bags

The GoBoard keyboard bags offer the ultimate mobile protection for your keyboard controller and laptop computer. These bags have many musician friendly details that separate them from the other solutions on the market; tie-down straps, lockable zippers for security, three pockets including a laptop sleeve and a bit of extra padding to pamper your keyboard.

Our new V2 version of the GoBoard bag offers a larger interior compartment to hold several new models of keyboards. 49-note and 61-note controllers by companies like Novation, Akai, Nektar, Native Instruments and M-Audio fit perfectly in the GoBoard gig bags. The V2 also features backpack straps and a charcoal grey exterior for the 49 note version.

Taga Duffle

Every musician has a duffle or gym bag for extra stuff. Maybe it's filled with cables, guitar pedals and effect boxes, or drum pedal & sticks, or your emergency bag of connectors, cable tester, duct tape and a clean shirt. But what if your duffle had a padded interior, external pockets, reinforced bottom, removable divider, zippered lid and heavy duty materials and construction? In that case it would be a Namba Gear Taga Duffle.

If you need to separate items, simply insert the Velcro divider to create two compartments instead of one. The wide padded strap is long enough to secure your Taga bag over one shoulder and across the chest. Once you use the Taga Duffle, any other duffle bag pales in comparison for both protection and ease of use.

- High performance construction
- Reinforced bottom
- Rubber standoffs
- Three external pockets
- Removable divider
- Zippered lid with lockable zippers

Juju V2

Juju V2 "Magic Bag" Effects/DJ Bag

Yes, this bag really does seem to have a certain magic. Lightweight and with some clever features, it offers a novel solution for owners of DJ controllers, mixers, or guitar pedal-boards of medium or larger variety. The bag comes with three padded rectangular cube-like spacers with Velcro on two sides of them. The blocks are the real genius of this design. With them, you can pack your gear in the safest position, no matter its exact size. In addition to a handle on both top and side, there are also two backpack style carrying straps and a shoulder strap.

- High Performance Construction
- Rubber Standoffs
- Lockable Zippers for Security
- Three Removable Padded Spacers
- Converts to Backpack
- Two Convenient Carry Handles

XXL Road Pack

Designed with larger footprint controllers in mind, the XXL RoadPack is our biggest backpack yet. It provides a comfortable fit and industry leading construction using extreme high grade, weather-resistant, 1680D ballistic nylon. The subtle two-toned charcoal grey/black exterior combined with a neon orange interior that is so bright it helps you locate all your gear in a darkened room, means that you'll have a bag that is stylish as well as practical.

When listing specs for this bag, we were looking at being able to pack controllers like the Traktor S4 or Numark NS6 along with a laptop and other assorted gear. But this bag is not just for the Digital DJ. Guitar players can also use the XXL RoadPack to transport a smaller pedalboard. This versatile pack can also carry a hard to fit 37-note keyboard such as Korg's MicroKorg 37. Like the rest of our line, the XXL RoadPack was designed to provide superior security and protection for your gear.

Big Namba

Big Namba Studio Backpack

This ultimate travel companion for your mobile studio is the largest size carry-on that most airlines will accept. Big Namba is capable of transporting a 25-note keyboard controller such as the Novation 25SLMKII along with up to a 17 in laptop; plus plenty of room for headphones, audio devices, mics, cables, p/s and more. Constructed using one of the strongest materials on the planet, 1680D ballistic nylon, with over-sized lockable zippers, and bright interior colors that help you locate your gear in a darkened room, there is nothing else like the Big Namba.

- Huge controller space unhinges and lays flat for easy loading
- Back material wicks moisture to control shirt stains

Lil Namba

Shaka

Lil Namba

Lil Namba is exactly the same bag as its big brother, just 3.5 in shorter. Consequently it is favored by DJs and touring musicians not requiring that extra capacity. Lil Namba is capable of transporting most digital DJ controllers such as the Vestax VCI300 with up to a 15 in laptop; plus plenty of room for headphones, audio device, mics, cables, p/s and more. Rubber standoffs protect the bottom of the bag from wet pavement while a convenient key strap provides easy access to your keys after a long trip.

Shaka Laptop Messenger Bag

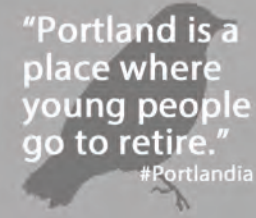

The Shaka Laptop Messenger is the most flexible laptop carrying solution that we have seen, with pockets, pockets and more pockets. We found ourselves taking a week-long trip that required that we carry our 15" laptop, an iPad, digital audio recorder, and smart phone. Plus the usual assortment of pens, passport, tickets, business cards, earbuds, cables, and power supplies for all the electronics. Of course we added a paperback, clean t-shirt and some snacks. We chose the Shaka Laptop Messenger for our travels; it looked great and it performed like a champion. We can't praise this bag enough.

- High performance construction
- Adjustable shoulder strap
- Cable management system
- Lockable zippers
- Convenient carry handle

Kucha

Kucha iPad Messenger Bag

It just doesn't get much better than this. The audio world is embracing Apple's iPad with more and better interfaces and software but no other iPad bag is designed to hold the rest of the required gear; microphone, audio device, cables, mini controllers, etc., in addition to your iPad. The Kucha was specifically tailored to hold an iPad pre-mounted in the Alesis I/O Dock. The bag has a dedicated microphone compartment using Velcro dividers for additional flexibility, with plenty of room for cables and accessories. There is also a protective iPad pouch for transport of an iPad without the Alesis I/O Dock.

- High performance construction
- Adjustable shoulder strap
- Removable microphone compartment
- Lockable zippers

Samba

Samba Personal Stash Bag

Some people have raised their eyebrows when we mentioned a "stash bag", but to anyone involved in music it is the perfect name for a bag to carry all of our "personal essentials", and anyone working in audio seems to have more than their fair share.

Measuring 7" x 7" x 3.5", the extra long strap allows the Samba Stash Bag to be worn across the chest or off the shoulder. Features include two inside zippered pockets and one outside Velcro pocket. This bag can be used to carry CD's, memory sticks, iLok, wallet, keys, handheld digital recorder, camera, iPod, in-ear monitors, phone, pen, notepad, business cards and hundreds of other small items that a musician or dj needs to carry with them.

- High performance construction
- Adjustable shoulder strap
- High contrast interior
- Two interior zippered pockets

GearWrap

GearWrap

Finally, a really cool alternative to wrapping up your expensive gear in raggedy old bath towels. Namba Gear's Gear Wrap is a square piece of padded cloth, designed to protect a variety of sensitive audio gear. Constructed of padded, hook & loop knit with a non-scratch nylon backing, these squares can be wrapped around audio devices, microphones, laptops or anything else that fits inside and needs a little extra love. Hook & loop tabs on all four corners let you wrap and stick them in any shape. Gear Wraps are available in three sizes, so you can get the perfect fit; 14 inch square, 19 inch square, and 25 inch square.
